

Faces of Hope

My story begins with Faith...

I have always been a Christian woman. I feel I was born a Christian woman!
But I never really knew what it meant to have a relationship with Jesus ~ until cancer...

The day I was diagnosed, September 18th, 2006 @ exactly 1:16 in the afternoon, I remember there was a peace that came over me. I knew my God was with me. He had a purpose for this Breast cancer.
I called all my "Prayer Warriors"!
The power of prayer changed my life!!!

I went to the Elders of the church I was attending and they laid hands on me, anointed me with oil and prayed for my healing while I was on my knees at the alter. This is what is Biblical for healing in the scriptures ~ James 5:14
I remember...I stayed in the WORD! I covered myself in the Word of God ~ DAILY!

I ate all healthy foods ~ God actually took away my taste for anything unhealthy for my physical body.
I drank "real" Green Tea & filtered water and continue to do so today.

I felt as holy as a person can be here on earth.
~cancer affects the entire family~

I thanked God for all the new technology for me that these physicians had to use in order to save my life.
My healing has been a process ~with first medication, surgery and radiation.
After this the choices for my recovery are my own.

Of course, everything is discussed with the professionals trained to help cure me, with all the skills and knowledge that God helped them to have. I live my life in gratitude to God and for these men I call "My Brother's".
~ I pray for them faithfully ~

As well as "My Sister" Dr. Rayna Kueuper Hall.

I live every day just like the song says... "Live Like You Are Dying" by Tim McGraw.
